License Agreement

This agreement ("Agreement") is made between GreatData.com, Inc. ("GreatData"), a North Carolina Corporation, and the company or individual purchasing the GreatData products ("the Company").

WHEREAS, the Company wishes to license certain products from GreatData,
The Company and GreatData agree:

Use Grant/Updates: Subject to the provisions of the Agreement, GreatData hereby grants the Company a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the GreatData products ordered by the Company. The Company shall periodically receive updates from GreatData as they become available throughout the term of the Agreement at no additional charge. Such updates or notice thereof shall be forwarded to the Company via e-mail or other means.

Term: The term of this Agreement for GreatData products commences on the date the products are ordered by the Company and shall continue in effect for a period of one year. This Agreement may be renewed for additional one-year periods at the then current price by mutual agreement of the parties.

Sites: The Company may use the GreatData products at multiple sites if multiple copies of the products are purchased. A Site is defined as including, but not limited to, the following locations where all or part of the GreatData products are stored or accessed:

- For non-web site locations: an individual Site would include each of the following:
 - Each office building or branch office.
 - Each individual user who is off-site accessing the data or product from laptops or other computers. These users would typically include sales reps, vendors, installers, technicians, etc.
- For web site locations: an individual Site would include each web server (Internet or Intranet), including all servers accessing our data and co-located web servers. If multiple companies or domain names are sharing GreatData products on the same server, then each company and/or domain name is considered a separate Site.
- Development locations: if a Site is to be used strictly for development or maintenance on software which uses the GreatData products, the Company does not need to consider it as an additional Site.
- Exemption for a single company with both web and non-web site use: if the product will be used for one company at one non-web site location and for that company's one Internet web site (one domain name), then only one copy of the product needs to be purchased.
- For the total number of Sites: include all Sites for your company and, if reselling or redistributing our products as part of another software package, each additional Site where it is to be installed.

Multiple Licenses: Normally, each product is licensed by the number of Sites that can access the product (as defined above). The purchase of the first copy of the product entitles the purchaser to a Single Site License, then they must purchase one additional copy for each 10 additional Sites.

Unlimited Use Licenses: The Company may purchase an Unlimited Use License by purchasing a total of 10 copies of the product.

Reselling: In order to resell GreatData products, the Company agrees that they will not be selling a competing product, and that, if possible, the Company will make the GreatData information difficult to extract into a useable format (usually this means that the data will be put in a binary or encrypted format.) The Company will be responsible for upgrading their customers as needed. The Company will need to purchase the appropriate number of copies for the number of Sites where the GreatData product is installed.

Competition: The company also agrees that it will not provide any portion of our data to a GreatData competitor.
